What made me happy was to find out that I was pregnant with the child of the man of my life.