What made me happy...I was five years old, I wanted a little sister and I got one the day before my birthday. That was my best gift!