

It's snowing. I didn't drink today (well yeah, a little). I'm trying to answer your question happiness ? For me this intense, deep emotion that moves me : I feel that I'm going to go away I won't tremble anymore live, that's all. Happiness is knowing that you can go away, happiness is the smile of someone who doesn't know that I'm an alcoholic. Happiness is thinking that I'm normal. Happiness : being right, loyal, and honest.
